mom, maven & mastermind

about me

Hey! I'm Amanda! I am a mom of two, lifestyle influencer, professional speaker and entrepreneur. I pride myself on being my authentic self at all times and enjoy bringing my followers with me on my motherhood and momtrepreneurship journey. I have built a loyal following of engaged women/moms who trust my opinions, advice and recommendations.

I love partnering with brands that celebrate women, align with my values and interests and are also committed to making life easier for busy moms. I value the opportunity to share my personal experience with brand products/services in an authentic and relatable way!
